The Importance of the Entire HUHS District Communities

Together, Hartford Union High School and the seven K-8 districts (Hartford Jt. #1, Erin, Friess-Lake, Herman, Neosho, Richfield, and Rubicon/Saylesville) have been preparing our learners to be thoughtful, caring members of society for a long, long time. We are extremely proud of the ongoing legacy and appreciative of the significant contributions of current board members, past board members, administrators, teachers, support staff, parents, students, and other citizens who have been a part of the journey to build our solid foundation. From a position of strength, we truly recognize that the most crucial resources we are blessed with today include the ongoing financial, emotional, and human support that the community provides to the multiple district efforts to elevate all students to their highest potential. Our shared responsibility for the creation of well educated, caring, and healthy learners into the competitive worldwide environment is crucial to the future success of the country.

Collectively, we are committed to continuing this very strong tradition of mutual support among our schools and our communities. We will seek input as we make important decisions and progressively communicate, honestly, both the successes and challenges the district faces as we work together to provide relevant and dynamic experiences for all students. We will challenge the community to commit to all of our children as we educate each to be contributing members of our society. Public education is a fundamental component of our future and can only be as strong as the support provided by the communities that are a part of its journey. Success of the K-8's, and HUHS learners and their future contributions to our communities, state, country, and world will be a point of pride for all taxpayers in our collective group of school districts. We have committed to being an important part of the community and our success and responsible management of resources will reflect a shared sense of values, pride, and ownership with those we serve.
